Open House Invitation

The Trustees of the Mattapoisett Free Public Library invite residents to a Grand Opening Celebration to commemorate the newer lower level facilities on Saturday, March 5th, at 2:00 p.m.

The Trustees have compiled the following history of the library:

MATTAPOISETT FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The citizens of Mattapoisett were very fortunate in having had access to a library of 4,000 books as early as 1834. At that time the minister of the Congregational Church - Dr. Thomas Robbins owned that collection of books and gladly loaned them to any interested reader.

From that heritage, two young men of the town in 1880 encouraged the reading habit. With the help of members of the Phillistorian Society, they put a small collection of books at a private home on Cannon Street. Neighbors and friends borrowed books from there. These two men inserted an article in the warrant of 1881 and the town voted the dog tax for the use of the library (about $56.00) and elected five trustees. They also requested that the name be "The Mattapoisett Free Public Library". (A Public library could charge a fee - but a Free Public Library could not.) With additional funds from a lecture about Alaska by Captain Charles Bryant, the trustees set up a bookcase in the selectmen's room over Atsatt's store. The library was open for business Saturday, January 21, 1882.

Very soon they moved to another room and awarded, by vote of the town, the dog tax and $100.00. Another two years and these facilities were outgrown and the next move was to the store at the corner of Water and Cannon Streets. Miss Clara Sherman had been hired as Librarian.

Agitation for a new Library Building started in 1895 but not until 1902 was much accomplished. Then Mr. Samuel G. Warren offered land and Mr. George F. Purrington, Jr. gave $10,000.00 for the building. The new library was dedicated in 1904. The old library books were catalogued under the Dewey Decimal System and cards put in the catalogue. The old brown paper covers were removed from the books.

In 1930-32 the WPA put a ceiling in the stack section and a good floor in the balcony after which new stacks were placed up there. Later because of serious leaks the two skylights were removed and a plaster ceiling installed.

In 1940 - World War II - due to the necessity for a Defense Center for a town warning system - the south end of the library basement was partitioned and a cement floor and heater were installed. This report center was manned around the clock with telephone communications to Civil Defense Headquarters.

When a new librarian took over in the early 40's it was evident that the old idea of collecting books for libraries would have to give way to a new concept of discarding, and the State Board of Library Commissions was very helpful. They sent a trained person who gave instructions in weeding out the collection, thereby gaining room for new books.

In 1974 trustees were faced with major building repairs. Floors were sagging on the main level and in the balcony. With the discovery that the main carrying beam was split, it was decided to ask voters to completely upgrade the entire library to meet all current building code standards. Because of crowded conditions on the main level and balcony there was a need for expanding the facilities.

These repairs have taken place throughout the building. Insulation of a 12" depth in the attic, new heating system - conversion from steam to hot water, new furnace room, new steel beams to shore up sagging floors and balcony, storm windows, fire alarm system, new wiring and lighting, a new public bathroom, an additional entrance to meet state building code specifications, a ventilation system, and the transition of a dirt floored cellar to a functional all purpose room with floor space almost equal to the main floor level.

This multi-purpose room will be used for public functions seating 40 people, to house the children's section, store periodicals, and as a work area for the library staff.

Judge John Hammond in his dedication address in 1904 ended by saying, "Men and Women of Mattapoisett realize the nature of this institution and its great power of good. Do your duty to the trust imposed upon you so well that all succeeding generations inspired by your example may be helped to do theirs."

were unhappy with its scope. The area, it was noted, enclosed approximately 1/5 of the town. The inclusion of tributaries in the definition of the river makes much of this area subject to the regulation. Howard Tinkham stated that the tributaries over-simplified the matter. He said that each tributary should be identified together with the flow direction. He asked, "What are we prevented from doing that's new other than scaring the heck out of anyone who wants to buy?"

Assessor Bruce Rocha agreed and said that the proposal will handicap a lot of people. He inquired, "Has any consideration been given to the tax loss to the town?"

It was suggested that ground water and surface water are two different entities - that surface water has a flushing action that quickly flows into the sea. This statement was disputed by former Water Superintendent Charles Morgan who said that while pumping is done from the gravel strata below the river level, when the river is down the water level in the pumps is also down. He said, "If you lose your water supply, you have lost it for good." He stated that provisions in the proposal will review special cases and that he didn't think it would hurt anyone.

Mr. Tinkham stated that many tracts in the suggested area are not wetland but the Appeals Board denies unless you can convince them otherwise.

Ralph Hussey stated that if he put up his land for sale tomorrow, people would hesitate to consider buying with this zoning change under consideration. He asked why the area is further south than 195 when 195 is already polluting the river. He said, "You are going to lose that part of the river anyway. Why overregulate?"

Ernest Horrocks questioned the ban on building within 200 feet of the river and Lois Bassett stated that Massachusetts health laws would already prohibit building without special permit. Water Superintendent William Nicholson said that only 24 lots exist in this category - 12 small lots and 12 close to 30,000 square feet and that these lots would be grandfathered.

In answer to Richard Chase's question about the plans of surrounding towns, he said that 4 towns have joined together to form a committee to jointly protect the river valley. Acushnet is the only town not heard from in this effort.

Mr. Rocha noted that agriculture would be a permitted use and that many poisons are used. He asked, "Why penalize the homeowner only?" Mr. Nicholson answered that the committee is working with the Board of Health to develop protection from herbicides and pesticides.

"Will present farms be grandfathered so that animals can go to the river to drink?" asked William Hubbard. Mrs. Bassett answered that present farms would be grandfathered and that subsequent owners could continue the same use.

Mr. Tinkham noted that some pastures and paddocks are as much as 6000 feet from the river and asked if they constituted a threat from that distance. Mr. Nicholson replied that such pollution could pollute from miles away over a period of years.

The question of petroleum tank storage was explored. Periodic inspection by the Board of Health would be necessary including pressure testing by a private concern of experts. A suggestion was made that above ground storage might be preferable as any leaks would be easy to detect and contain.

Joseph Souza suggested that since the Tinkhamtown area would be most affected by the zoning change that it might be a good idea to have a Tinkhamtown voice on the committee.

Chairman John DeCosta said that all of the concerns that were voiced would be addressed. He said that the action to protect the valley was a model one with 4 town cooperation with the one purpose to protect the well sites of all these towns within this same river valley. He said that the committee had met for 10 times to put together the zoning proposal. They had met with the Board of Selectmen and the heads of town departments before this session to gather opinions from the townspeople. The next step will be a public hearing March 15.

Football Awards Banquet

Tickets for the first annual Otto Graham football awards banquet to be held at Greater New Bedford Voke-Tech Monday, March 7, will be on sale beginning February 28 at the Old Rochester Regional High School.

The Otto Graham award is being tended that high school senior selected the area's top football player. Thirteen athletes representing schools served by the New Bedford Standard-Times are vying for the coveted honor. Among them is Old Rochester's Chris Riley, outstanding quarterback the last four years and also a key member of the Bulldogs' South Sectional Basketball Tourney Titleists of 1982.

Riley's football stats are highly impressive. His four year totals read: passes attempted, 553; passes completed, 318; yards passing, 4,325; TD's, 30; Completed Percent, 57.5. Chris also rushed for 270 yards and scored 11 TD's himself.

In his senior year Riley completed 124 aerials good for 1,720 yards and eight scores. This is a 57.6 completion average despite his team's 0-9 season.

During his sophomore year, when ORR was 7-3, Chris was on target 62.4 percent of the time and led the State's Division IV quarterbacks with 11 TD passes. That year he was 56 of 89 for 686 yards. Obviously, with a strong running game to complement his throwing, the Bulldogs presented a much more balanced offense.

Chris was 104 out of 193 during his junior year, accounting for 1,481 yards and eight TD's. And even as a freshman, seeing limited action, Chris had a 60 percent on-target record.

Other area candidates include: Steve Melloni (Wareham); Paul Correia (Fairhaven); Rob O'Berry (New Bedford); Matt Quinn (Dartmouth); John Green (Stang); Aires Giesta (GNB-V-T); Chris Leary (Coyle & Cassidy); Bob Silvia (Apponequet); Alan Hardy (Middleboro); Dave Bernier (Durfee); Rick Kowalski (Somerset); Bob Ledoux (Case).

Open Letter

TO THE CITIZENS OF MARION, ROCHESTER AND MATTAPOISETT:

So many times we take for granted those things that are readily available to us.

If you find yourself bored or longing for some unusual entertainment; but can't quite take the time to travel to Boston or Broadway, perhaps you might follow this suggestion:

There is a group of young people belonging to the Old Rochester Regional Drama Club who are working their heads off getting ready to present to you a wonderful musical called "The Boyfriend".

Under the very adept direction of Mr. Norman Byron and the wonderful choreography showmanship of Ms. Denny Malone, these kids will charge our stage with exuberance and unbounded enthusiasm.

World Day of Prayer

World Day of Prayer service will be held Friday, March 4th, at 10 a.m. at St. Anthony's Church, Mattapoisett. A coffee hour will follow the service. All women of the community are invited.

World Day of Prayer is celebrated this year on March 4th. Sponsored in the United States by Church Women United, this annual observance unites women of faith in 170 countries on six continents around the globe. The year 1983 marks the 96th consecutive year in which untold thousands of women will gather to be part of this worldwide prayer witness. World Day of Prayer, translated into many languages, may well be the most widely used Christian literature in the world apart from the Scriptures.

The service for 1983 was written by Christian women from the island countries of the Caribbean on the theme, "New Persons in Christ". Representing a rich mixture of races and cultures, they are seeking a new Caribbean identity. The service reflects joy in the new-found independence of their nations and the new opportunities opening up to women socially, politically and within their own churches.

CHURCH WOMEN UNITED is the Christian movement that brings together more than half a million Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women into one Christian "community of caring". World Day of Prayer offerings make possible the mission of Church Women United, including the Intercontinental Grants for Mission program that funds national and international projects in support of the empowerment of women, human rights, justice and peace.

Scholastic Chess

ORR CHESS PLAYER WINS 2nd PLACE

Jeff Starecheski, captain of the ORR Chess Team, charged back from opening game loss and captured second place in the 1983 Massachusetts Scholastic Singles Chess Championship District finals (south of the Mass. Turnpike). His opening loss was to the eventual winner from Wellesley. The tournament was held at New Bedford High School on Sunday, February 6th, and ran from 10:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Mr. Cameron, Chess Team Advisor, felt that Jeff's play was remarkable since most high school players would have "given up" after an opening loss. Jeff showed great determination and maturity in his play and deserves much credit for his perseverance. Jeff is only a sophomore at ORR and vows to take first place next year.

ORR Math Team

The ORR Math Team charged into first place in the Southeastern Massachusetts Conference Mathematics League after the third meet by beating their nearest competitor by 23 points. The Math Team moved from third to first place with fine performances by:

Arlene Haskell, Debbie Brewster, Diane Cook, Joe LeBlanc, Carmen Gracia, Laurie Watjen, Luz Jackivicz, Melanie Johnson, Kaaren Wileczka and Jeff Humphrey. If ORR remains in first place, it will once again qualify waves are comparatively gentle, the beach profile broadens into a gradually sloping terrace as sand accumulates. With the coming of winter's harsh storms of strong winds and forceful breakers, this sandy build-up is quickly washed away, giving the beach a steep, eroded profile. On Sunday's walk we will discuss and observe these forces which are constantly changing the beach and dunes. We will also examine evidence of plant and animal life and consider their adaptations to this harsh shoreline environment.

Weekly walks at the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies are open to the public and are free of charge. The Lloyd Center grounds, including three trails, are open every day from dawn to dusk. Please call 990-0505 for further information.

State Treasurer Crane is charged with administering this law. One of his responsibilities is to force banks and other institutions to report unclaimed funds to the state. Treasurer Crane had to sue Bos-

Dear Residents of Mattapoisett,

I am announcing my intention to seek election to the Mattapoisett Elementary School Committee. I am pursuing this position because of my personal commitment to quality education. It would also be my determination to insure the voters' edict of Proposition 2 1/2. As a parent of two elementary school aged children who has been totally involved with our schools through the Mattapoisett Parent-Teachers' Club, I realize the educational needs of our children.

I am asking for your support on April 5th and thank you for your consideration.

WALT DISNEY'S PETER PAN TO FLY ONTO ZEITERION THEATRE SCREEN

The ZEITERION THEATRE will present Walt Disney's Peter Pan on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, February 25-27.

Adapted from the play by James Barrie, Peter Pan is a story about never having to grow up and escaping to Never-Never-Land to do so. Peter, along with Tinker Bell, sprinkles his friends Wendy, John and Michael with pixie dust, and they fly off to "the second star to the right and on till morning" to reach their destination.

In Never-Never-Land they meet the infamous Captain Hook who constantly tries to capture Peter Pan.

Other delightful scenes include Captain Hook, preparing to meet Tinker Bell, sprucing up, and screwing in a golden hook... Michael's teddy bear confounding a live bear about to pounce on the children in the forest...Michael sprinkling Nana with pixie dust so she too can fly away, but she is tied to the dog house and waves as Michael takes off...and the crocodile, a Rochester on Saturday night at the Rochester Woman's Club. The party was arranged by Henry and Bonnie Hartley, assisted by other family members. The hall was decorated with colored streamers, bunches of colorful balloons and pictures of their wedding day. A boutonniere and corsage were pinned on the guests of honor when they arrived, and a niece, Heather Hartley, presented her aunt with a carnation. The band struck up the Army Air Corps song as they entered the hall. George was in the Air Force during World War II.

Many relatives and friends greeted the Churches in a receiving line which also included Mr. and Mrs. David Fearing who had been best man and maid of honor at their wedding.

Dancing followed led off by the Churches, the Fearings and at the invitation of Mrs. Church, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin LeValley who were also celebrating their wedding anniversary.

The head table had as a centerpiece a lovely floral bouquet under a money bouquet. Many gifts and cards surrounded the bouquet. Mrs. Anna White, a long-time friend, read a poem of the couple's life of friendship, caring, loving and giving of themselves to the town. A book of pictures depicting 25 years was compiled by Sharon Hartley and presented to the couple.

An anniversary cake was cut by the couple and served by nieces and nephews. Refresh-

Preventing Stress

LECTURE AT SMU ON BURN-OUT PREVENTION

How to prevent stress and burn-out will be discussed by Professor Milton A. Young in the next Faculty Series lecture at Southeastern Massachusetts University on February 24th.

The free, public lecture, titled "Transpersonal Approach to Burn-Out Syndrome", is scheduled at 4 p.m. in the South Lounge of the SMU Library.

Humans are bio-energy systems born in relative harmony with the environment, according to Professor Young. "Stress is caused by learned reaction to outside events, not by events themselves," he said. How to beat burn-out by shifting to a transpersonal level will be discussed at the lecture.

Prior to joining the faculty of SMU's education department in 1972, Young served as senior research scientist in the Center for the Environment and Man at Hartford, Connecticut; as program director of Special Poverty Programs in the Human Resources Administration, New York City; and as consultant to the Connecticut State Department of Education. He received bachelor's and master's degrees from Long Island University and Ph.D from the University of Connecticut.

The lecture, originally scheduled for February 17, was postponed because of a conflict in time with the February meeting of the Board of Trustees on the same date.

In an effort to encourage science and engineering students at Southeastern Massachusetts University to seek permanent employment in southeastern Massachusetts upon graduation, a Science and Engineering Summer Job Fair will be held at the SMU Library on March 2.

The fair, by bringing together 20 to 25 area firms and up to 150 students in their junior year at SMU, will give local employees an opportunity to hire highly trained and skilled students during the summer of 1983. The hope of the sponsors of the fair is that once students have worked in area industry they will be more inclined to remain in the area after graduation to the benefit of the entire community. The program will also give firms a chance to evaluate SMU students in a working environment during the summer for possible full-time employment later on.

Sponsorship of the fair has been spearheaded by the presidents of the Acushnet Company, Aerovox, Inc., Sippican Ocean Systems, Inc., Thompson Consultants, Inc., and Neil Brown Instrument Systems, and the Southeastern Massachusetts Industrial Committee in conjunction with Southeastern Massachusetts University.

Students majoring in the following disciplines are urged to participate in the 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. fair: biology, chemistry, math-

HARD TO BELIEVE SURVIVORS HAVE GONE SOFT.

May be hard to believe. But they sure are easy to wear. That's because the leather in these new Survivors® is about as soft as a pup's belly.

But don't let that fool you. It may feel soft, but this is one tough boot. Built like all Herman Survivors are built. To last. Just like they've been built for over 100 years. No cutting corners. Which means they'll stay soft and comfortable that much longer.
